Section 4. SHORT SUMMARY REPORT (Compulsory)

Provide a short article about your WMBD event or activity you arranged to celebrate WMBD. The following information (venue, organiser, number and type of participants, outcome) should be included in your article. (Minimum 200 words)

WSCCenter work is dedicated to conserve birds and their habitats. Since 2014, we have been celebrated WMBD event in various sites in Mongolia. This year we organized the WMBD event at four different locations in Mongolia. Three of them were bird ringing stations which are coordinated by WSCC. Those ringing stations are located in Binder soum, Khentii province (Khurkh BRS), Dariganga soum, Sukhbaatar province (Dariganga BRS) and Mankhan soum Khovd province (Khovd BRS) in Mongolia. The fourth site was the Khar Us Lake National Park that located in Khovd city in western Mongolia. All sites used same program and format throughout the event.

We partnered following local organisations – National University of Mongolia, Mongolian State University of Education, The Khovd University, Khar Us Lake National Park, Dariganga National Park, and 6 middle and high schools in Khovd city, Khurkh, Mankhan, and Dariganga counties.

This year event was specially focused on local school children which are growing near important flyway stop-over sites. Also, their family and life habit are tightly connected with wild birds and their habitat. The audiences were mostly local middle and high school students, local birdwatchers, herders, eco clubs, national park's rangers, officials, herders, and farmers as well.

The events began with the introduction about WMBD and its slogan for 2019. We gave lengthy lectures about plastic pollution and why birds are being impacted, why people need to reduce the plastic products etc. Also we demonstrated bird watching activities and bird ringing activities and migratory birds of Mongolia. During the field trip, the students gained basic knowledge of bird watching and bird monitoring methods and research tools. Even we let students to become part of study by counting water birds, checking mist nets and others. One of main parts of the event was cleaning wetland habitats to give them hands on experience in plastic pollution. Kids eagerly cleaned the habitats and enjoyed the interaction with instructors, because they understood the threats of plastic pollution.

We directly involved 200 participants for the event. Most of them were school children. Our event's result were published out on 3 ringing station's Facebook pages which reached several thousand people. We really hope that each student also share their knowledge with their family, friends and classmates. Thus, we improved more than thousands of local people's knowledge of migratory birds, plastic pollution, and nature conservation during the WMBD -2019 event. We believe so their awareness will long pursue them how to conserve migratory birds and plastic-free bird habitats.
