About World Migratory Bird Day 2025

World Migratory Bird Day (WMBD) is an annual awareness-raising campaign highlighting the need for the conservation of migratory birds and their habitats. It has a global outreach and is an effective tool to help raise global awareness of the threats faced by migratory birds, their ecological importance, and the need for international cooperation to conserve them. In 2018, WMBD unified the planet's major migratory bird corridors, or flyways: the African–Eurasian flyway, the East Asian–Australasian flyway, and the Americas flyways. WMBD is now celebrated twice a year, on the Second Saturday in May and in October. In 2025, WMBD will be held on 10 May and 11 October. This year, the theme is “Shared Spaces: Creating Bird-Friendly Cities and Communities”. The EAAFP Secretariat encourages Partners to celebrate WMBD twice a year.

Introduction of EAAFP WMBD 2025 Small Grant

The Small Grant for 2025 World Migratory Bird Day (WMBD) has been established to provide financial support to EAAFP Partners, Task Forces, Working Groups, and NGOs who plan to organize public events and/or conservation action-oriented workshops at national or local levels through participating in World Migratory Bird Day. We strongly encourage EAAFP Partners and collaborators to make an application for any suitable event or development of WMBD materials in the local language that aims to raise awareness of the need for conserving migratory waterbirds and the value of their habitats in the East Asian–Australasian Flyway.

Eligibility Criteria

Applicants who plan to organize an event to celebrate World Migratory Bird Day 2025 need to be based in EAAFP Partner countries. In addition, EAAFP Partner countries included in the DAC list of ODA Recipients are our priority to support (If you are not sure, please see the list of EAAFP Partners, and DAC list of ODA Recipients). If you are not the country focal point of EAAFP, please consult and plan with the EAAFP focal point of your country before you apply.

Please note that this grant is to initiate a WMBD event. You can co-fund the event with other sources, but please indicate this in the budget session. Applications with similar content (location, target participants, etc.) to previous years may not be accepted. We also encourage proposals to promote Flyway Network Sites for the WMBD activities.

Information of the application

Firstly, applicants must meet the eligibility criteria set for funding assistance under the EAAFP WMBD 2025 Small Grants Programme.

For your budget planning, please note a maximum of 1,000 USD will be allocated to each country. We recommend you submit your application as early as possible.

The deadline for application is 7th April 2025. Please submit your application to the Communications Officer via email (Word or PDF document) to secretariat@eaaflyway.net and communication@eaaflyway.net .

After the Secretariat receives your application, the approval of successful proposals is made by the Secretariat. Applicants will hear the result within two weeks after the deadline. Incomplete applications will not be accepted.

Successful applicants have the responsibility to help translate the World Migratory Bird Day materials into their own languages. These translations will be shared on the World Migratory Bird Day website (<https://www.worldmigratorybirdday.org/>).

Target participants:	Urban and suburban communities, birdwatchers, students, families, and members of the general public interested in nature conservation
Expected number of participants:	100–150 participants (in-person and online)

Event objectives and plan (max. 500 words):

In celebration of World Migratory Bird Day 2025 and this year's theme, "Creating Bird-Friendly Cities & Communities", the Bird Conservation Society of Thailand (BCST) will organize a set of engaging activities aimed at raising awareness of how people in cities and communities can help protect migratory birds and urban biodiversity.

Objectives:

1. Promote awareness of migratory birds and urban biodiversity.
2. Encourage citizen participation in bird conservation, especially in urban and suburban settings.
3. Inspire practical actions that support bird-friendly spaces in cities and communities.
4. Foster appreciation of local biodiversity through inclusive and accessible birdwatching.

The campaign will include four main components:

1. Global Big Day Participation (Online and In-person):

BCST will join the global birdwatching movement by encouraging participants from across Thailand to take part in eBird's Global Big Day. Participants will be invited to submit bird observations from parks, gardens, balconies, or any green space near their homes. A BCST-led birdwatching team will also conduct a count at a key urban birding site and livestream the activity to inspire participation.

2. "Bird-Friendly City" Awareness Campaign (Social Media):

In the week leading up to the event, BCST will launch an educational social media campaign that highlights simple, practical tips for creating bird-friendly spaces in cities.

3. Birdwatching and Educational Activity in a City Park (Bangkok):

BCST will host a public birdwatching walk in a major city park. Activities will include guided birdwatching on urban bird conservation, and a fun bird ID challenge. Participants will learn how to identify common urban birds and understand the importance of green spaces for migratory species.

4. “Bird in the Garden” Mini-Campaign (Community Engagement):

To encourage participation from people who cannot join the central event, BCST will promote a “Bird in the Garden” activity encouraging individuals and families to observe birds in their home gardens or neighborhoods. Participants can share their sightings online using a special hashtag and receive digital materials to support garden birdwatching and bird-friendly practices at home.

Through these integrated activities, BCST aims to connect people with birds in everyday spaces, promote urban nature appreciation, and inspire practical actions that support bird conservation. We believe that cities can become vibrant habitats for both birds and people—and that every individual can help make a difference.
